Hearing

NATURE OF HEARING AND ITS DISORDERS

Normal Auditory Systems

Age-related differences in processing dynamic information to identify vowel quality. Fox, R.A., Wall, L.G., & Gokcen, J. Aug. 1992, 892–902.
Aging and the binaural advantage in reverberation and noise. Helfer, K.S. Dec. 1992, 1394–1401.
Auditory distortion products measured with averaged auditory evoked potentials. Chertoff, M.E., Hecox, K.E., & Goldstein, R. Feb. 1992, 157–166.
Detection and recognition of stop consonants by normal and hearing-impaired listeners. Turner, C.W., Fabry, D.A., Barrett, S., & Horwitz, A.R. Aug. 1992, 942–949.
Distortion-product emission and auditory sensitivity in human ears with normal hearing and cochlear hearing loss. Nelson, D.A., & Kimberley, B.P. Oct. 1992, 1142–1159.
Effects of stimulus phase on the normal auditory brainstem response. Fowler, C.G. Feb. 1992, 167–174.
The late auditory evoked potential masking-level difference as a function of noise level. Fowler, C.G., & Mikami, C.M. Feb. 1992, 216–221.
Masking of tinnitus induced by sound. Kemp, S., & George, R.N. Oct. 1992, 1169–1179.
Modulation detection, modulation masking, and speech understanding in noise in the elderly. Takahashi, G.A., & Bacon, S.P. Dec. 1992, 1401–1421.
Normal-hearing and hearing-impaired subjects' ability to just follow conversation in competing speech, reversed speech, and noise backgrounds. Hygge, S., Rönnberg, J., Larsby, B., & Arlinger, S. Feb. 1992, 208–215.
Orienting attention in audition and between audition and vision: Young and elderly subjects. Robin, D.A., & Rizzo, M. June 1992, 701–707.
Some psychometric properties of the test of basic auditory capabilities (TBAC). Christopherson, L.A., & Humes, L.E. Aug. 1992, 929–935.
Spectral pattern discrimination by children. Allen, P., & Wightman, F. Feb. 1992, 222–233.

Auditory and Other Otic Pathologies

Consistent within-session measures of tinnitus. Penner, M.J., & Bilger, R.C. June 1992, 694–700.
Distortion-product emission and auditory sensitivity in human ears with normal hearing and cochlear hearing loss. Nelson, D.A., & Kimberley, B.P. Oct. 1992, 1142–1159.
Equivalent ear canal volumes in children pre- and post-tympanostomy tube insertion. Shanks, J.E., Stelmachowicz, P.G., Beauchaine, K.L., & Schulte, L. Aug. 1992, 936–941.
Listening and language at 4 years of age: Effect of otitis media. Gravel, J.S., & Wallace, I.F. June 1992, 588–595.

Reliability of two measures of speech recognition in elderly people. Cokely, C.G., & Humes, L.E. June 1992, 654–660.

Hearing Loss and Deafness

Aging and the binaural advantage in reverberation and noise. Helfer, K.S. Dec. 1992, 1394–1401.

Analytic study of the Tadoma method: Improving performance through the use of supplementary tactual displays. Reed, C.M., Rabinowitz, W.M., Durlach, N.I., Delhorne, L.A., Braida, L.D., Pemberton, J.C., Mulcahey, B.D., & Washington, D.L. April 1992, 450–465.

Detection and recognition of stop consonants by normal and hearing-impaired listeners. Turner, C.W., Fabry, D.A., Barrett, S., & Horwitz, A.R. Aug. 1992, 942–949.

Distortion-product emission and auditory sensitivity in human ears with normal hearing and cochlear hearing loss. Nelson, D.A., & Kimberley, B.P. Oct. 1992, 1142–1159.

The effects of input-output configuration in syllabic compression on speech perception. Maré, M.J., Dreschler, W.A., & Verschuure, H. June 1992, 675–685.

Long-term measures of electrode impedance and auditory thresholds for the Ineraid cochlear implant. Dorman, M., Smith, L., Dankowski, K., McCandless, G., & Parkin, J. Oct. 1992, 1126–1130.

Normal-hearing and hearing-impaired subjects' ability to just follow conversation in competing speech, reversed speech, and noise backgrounds. Hygge, S., Rönnberg, J., Larsby, B., & Arlinger, S. Feb. 1992, 208–215.

Performance over time of congenitally deaf and postlingually deafened children using a multichannel cochlear implant. Fryauf-Bertschy, H., Tyler, R.S., Kelsay, D.M., & Gantz, B.J. Aug. 1992, 913–920.

The role of temporal and spectral cues in vowel identification by listeners with impaired hearing. Summers, W.V., & Leek, M.R. Oct. 1992, 1189–1199.

Some psychometric properties of the test of basic auditory capabilities (TBAC). Christopherson, L.A., & Humes, L.E. Aug. 1992, 929–935.

Speech perception and production skills of hearing-impaired children from oral and total communication education settings. Geers, A.E., & Moog, J.S. Dec. 1992, 1384–1393.

Speechreading performance under different conditions of video image, repetition, and speech rate. Ijsseldijk, F.J. April 1992, 466–471.

Temporal resolution in normal-hearing and hearing-impaired listeners using frequency-modulated stimuli. Madden, J.P., & Feth, L.L. April 1992, 436–442.

Effects of Noise and Issues in Hearing Conversation

ADC bit resolution: A response to Hamill and Barron. Harris, R.W., Brey, R.H., Chang, Y., Soria, B.D., & Hilton, L.M. June 1992, 478–479.

The effects of auditory and visual interference on speech and sign. Siegel, G.M., Clay, J.L., & Naeve, S.L. Dec. 1992, 1358–1362.

Long-term measures of electrode impedance and auditory thresholds for the Ineraid cochlear implant. Dorman, M., Smith, L., Dankowski, K., McCandless, G., & Parkin, J. Oct. 1992, 1126–1130.

Open-set word identification by an adult with profound hearing impairment: Integration of touch, aided hearing, and speechreading. Lynch, M.P., Eilers, R.E., & Pero, P.J. April 1992, 443–449.

Performance over time of congenitally deaf and postlingually deafened children using a multichannel cochlear implant. Fryauf-Bertschy, H., Tyler, R.S., Kelsay, D.M., & Gantz, B.J. Aug. 1992, 913–920.

Relationships between speech-recognition threshold, average hearing level, and speech importance noise detection threshold. Letowski, T.R., Gergenreder, P., & Tang, H. Oct. 1992, 1131–1136.

The reliability of a modified Simplex procedure in hearing and frequency response selection. Kuk, F.K., & Pape, N.M.C. April 1992, 418–429.

Otoacoustic Emissions

Distortion-product emission and auditory sensitivity in human ears with normal hearing and cochlear hearing loss. Nelson, D.A., & Kimberley, B.P. Oct. 1992, 1142–1159.

Speech Perception

The role of temporal and spectral cues in vowel identification by listeners with impaired hearing. Summers, W.V., & Leek, M.R. Oct. 1992, 1189–1199.

Aged

Reliability of two measures of speech recognition in elderly people. Cokely, C.G., & Humes, L.E. June 1992, 654–660.

Vestibular Assessment

Comparison of responses to air, water, and closed-loop caloric irrigators. Karlsen, E.A., Mikhail, H.H., Norris, C.W., & Hassanein, R.S. Feb. 1992, 186–191.

Tactile Perception

Analytic study of the Tadoma method: Improving performance through the use of supplementary tactual displays. Reed, C.M., Rabinowitz, W.M., Durlach, N.I., Delhorne, L.A., Braida, L.D., Pemberton, J.C., Mulcahey, B.D., & Washington, D.L. April 1992, 450–465.

Attention in Audition

Orienting attention in audition and between audition and vision: Young and elderly subjects. Robin, D.A., & Rizzo, M. June 1992, 701–707.

Language

NATURE OF NORMAL LANGUAGE

Language Development

Causal coherence in the oral narratives of Spanish-speaking children. Gutierrez-Clellen, V.F., & Iglesias, A. April 1992, 363–372.

Communicative gestures in children with delayed onset of oral expressive vocabulary. Thal, D.J., & Tobias, S. Dec. 1992, 1281–1289.
Delay versus deviance in the language acquisition of language-impaired children. Curtiss, S., Katz, W., & Tallal, P. April 1992, 373–383.
Did primitive man really talk like an ape?Christensen, J.M. Aug. 1992, 805.
The invisible children: A reply to Lahey's perspective. Seymour, H.N. June 1992, 640–641.
Locus equations as an index of coarticulation for place of articulation distinctions in children. Sussman, H.M., Hoemëke, K.A., & McCaffrey, H.A. Aug. 1992, 769–781.
Measurable outcomes of instructions to modify normal parent-child verbal interactions: Implications for indirect stuttering therapy. Bernstein Ratner, N. Feb. 1992, 14–20.
Residual effects of preschool phonology disorders in grade school, adolescence, and adulthood. Lewis, B.A., & Freebairn, L. Aug. 1992, 819–831.
Specific-language-impaired children's quick incidental learning of words: The effects of a pause. Rice, M.L., Buhr, J., & Oetting, J.B. Oct. 1992, 1040–1048.
Spoken and written language relationships in language/learning-impaired and normally achieving school-age children. Gillam, R.B., & Johnston, J.R. Dec. 1992, 1303–1315.
Symbol vocabulary and the focus of conversations: Augmenting language development for youth with mental retardation. Adamson, L.B., Romski, M.A., Deffebach, K., & Sevcik, R.A. Dec. 1992, 1333–1343.
Use and understanding of adverbial conjuncts: A developmental study of adolescents and young adults. Nippold, M.A., Schwarz, I.E., & Undlin, R.A. Feb. 1992, 108–118.
Vowel duration in mothers' speech to young children. Swanson, L.A., Leonard, L.B., & Gandour, J. June 1992, 617–625.
Young children's idiom comprehension: Trying to get the picture. Abkarian, G.G., Jones, A., & West, G. June 1992, 580–587.

Language Use in Adults

The effects of auditory and visual interference on speech and sign. Siegel, G.M., Clay, J.L., & Naeve, S.L. Dec. 1992, 1358–1362.
Measurable outcomes of instructions to modify normal parent-child verbal interactions: Implications for indirect stuttering therapy. Bernstein Ratner, N. Feb. 1992, 14–20.
Modifications in sign under conditions of impeded visibility. Naeve, S.L., Siegel, G.M., & Clay, J.L. Dec. 1992, 1272–1280.
Residual effects of preschool phonology disorders in grade school, adolescence, and adulthood. Lewis, B.A., & Freebairn, L. Aug. 1992, 819–831.
Then as an indicator of deictic discontinuity in adults' oral description of a film. Duchan, J., Meth, M., & Waltzman, D. Dec. 1992, 1367–1375.
Use and understanding of adverbial conjuncts: A developmental study of adolescents and young adults. Nippold, M.A., Schwarz, I.E., & Undlin, R.A. Feb. 1992, 108–118.

Language Differences and Different Languages

Causal coherence in the oral narratives of Spanish-speaking children. Gutierrez-Clellen, V.F., & Iglesias, A. April 1992, 363–372.
The invisible children: A reply to Lahey's perspective. Seymour, H.N. June 1992, 640–641.
Linguistic and cultural diversity: Further problems for determining who shall be called language disordered. Lahey, M. June 1992, 638–639.

LANGUAGE DISORDERS

Aphasia and Other Adult Language Disorders

The access and processing of familiar idioms by brain-damaged and normally aging adults. Tompkins, C.A., Boada, R., & McGarry, K. June 1992, 626–637.
Diagnosing specific language impairment in adults for the purpose of pedigree analysis. Tomblin, J.B., Freese, P.R., & Records, N.L. Aug. 1992, 832–843.
Factors underlying neuropsychological test performance in chronic severe traumatic brain injury. Peach, R.K. Aug. 1992, 810–818.

Language Disorders in Children

Cohesion repairs in the narrative of normal and language-disordered school-age children. Purcell, S., & Liles, B.Z. April 1992, 354–362.
Communicative gestures in children with delayed onset of oral expressive vocabulary. Thal, D.J., & Tobias, S. Dec. 1992, 1281–1289.
Comprehension problems in children with specific language impairment: Literal and inferential meaning. Bishop, D.V.M., & Adams, C. Feb. 1992, 119–129.
The conditions and course of clinically induced phonological change. Gierut, J.A. Oct. 1992, 1049–1063.
Delay versus deviance in the language acquisition of language-impaired children. Curtiss, S., Katz, W., & Tallal, P. April 1992, 373–383.
Echolalic responses by a child with autism to four experimental conditions of sociolinguistic input. Violette, J., & Swisher, L. Feb. 1992, 139–147.
Grammatical morphology and speech perception in children with specific language impairment. Leonard, L.B., McGregor, K.K., & Allen, G.D. Oct. 1992, 1076–1085.
The invisible children: A reply to Lahey's perspective. Seymour, H.N. June 1992, 640–641.
Language sample collection and analysis: A comparison of freeplay and interview assessment contexts. Evans, J.L., & Craig, H.K. April 1992, 343–353.
Linguistic and cultural diversity: Further problems for determining who shall be called language disordered. Lahey, M. June 1992, 638–639.
Listening and language at 4 years of age: Effect of otitis media. Gravel, J.S., & Wallace, I.F. June 1992, 588–595.
Morpheme learning of children with specific language impairment under controlled instructional conditions. Connell, P.J., & Stone, C.A. Aug. 1992, 844–852.
Phonological behavior in toddlers with slow expressive language development. Paul, R., & Jennings, P. Feb. 1992, 99–107.
Residual effects of preschool phonology disorders in grade school, adolescence, and adulthood. Lewis, B.A., & Freebairn, L. Aug. 1992, 819–831.
Specific-language-impaired children's quick incidental learning of words: The effects of a pause. Rice, M.L., Buhr, J., & Oetting, J.B. Oct. 1992, 1040–1048.
Spoken and written language relationships in language/learning-impaired and normally achieving school-age children. Gillam, R.B., & Johnston, J.R. Dec. 1992, 1303–1315.
A study of developmental speech and language disorders in twins. Lewis, B.A., & Thompson, L.A. Oct. 1992, 1086–1094.
Symbolic play development in toddlers with expressive specific language impairment (SLI-E). Rescorla, L., & Goossens, M. Dec. 1992, 1290–1302.

Learning Disabilities

Auditory temporal acuity in normally achieving and learning-disabled college students. Watson, B.U. Feb. 1992, 148–156.
Linguistic trade-offs in school-age children with and without language disorders. Masterson, J.J., & Kamhi, A.G. Oct. 1992, 1064–1075.
Listening and language at 4 years of age: Effect of otitis media. Gravel, J.S., & Wallace, I.F. June 1992, 588–595.
Speech perception in adult subjects with familial dyslexia. Steffens, M.L., Eilers, R.E.,, Gross-Glenn, K, & Jallad, B. Feb. 1992, 192–200.
Spoken and written language relationships in language/learning-impaired and normally achieving school-age children. Gillam, R.B., & Johnston, J.R. Dec. 1992, 1303–1315.
A study of developmental speech and language disorders in twins. Lewis, B.A., & Thompson, L.A. Oct. 1992, 1086–1094.

Language Disorders in Mental Retardation

Symbol vocabulary and the focus of conversations: Augmenting language development for youth with mental retardation. Adamson, L.B., Romski, M.A., Deffebach, K., & Sevcik, R.A. Dec. 1992, 1333–1343.

ASSESSMENT AND INTERVENTION

Screening

Linguistic and cultural diversity: Further problems for determining who shall be called language disordered. Lahey, M. June 1992, 638–639.

Assessment

The access and processing of familiar idioms by brain-damaged and normally aging adults. Tompkins, C.A., Boada, R., & McGarry, K. June 1992, 626–637.
Cohesion repairs in the narrative of normal and language-disordered school-age chil-

The invisible children: A reply to Lahey's perspective. Seymour, H.N. June 1992, 640–641.
Language sample collection and analysis: A comparison of freeplay and interview assessment contexts. Evans, J.L., & Craig, H.K. April 1992, 343–353.
Linguistic and cultural diversity: Further problems for determining who shall be called language disordered. Lahey, M. June 1992, 638–639.
Morpheme learning of children with specific language impairment under controlled instructional conditions. Connell, P.J., & Stone, C.A. Aug. 1992, 844–852.
Speechreading performance under different conditions of video image, repetition, and speech rate. Ijsseldijk, F.J. April 1992, 466–471.

Intervention

Morpheme learning of children with specific language impairment under controlled instructional conditions. Connell, P.J., & Stone, C.A. Aug. 1992, 844–852.

Nonspeech Communications Systems

Effects of configuration on the paired-associate learning of Blissymbols by preschool children with normal cognitive abilities. Fuller, D.R, & Lloyd, L.L. Dec. 1992, 1376–1383.
Effects of speech output type, message length, and reauditorization on perceptions of the communicative competence of an adult AAC user. Hoag, L.A., & Bedrosian, J.L. Dec. 1992, 1363–1366.
Evaluating memory wallets in conversations with persons with dementia. Bourgeois, M.S. Dec. 1992, 1344–1357.
Instructing facilitators to support the communication of people who use augmentative communication systems. Light, J., Dattilo, J., English, J., Gutierrez, L., & Hartz, J. Aug. 1992, 865–875.
Message-encoding techniques for augmentative communication systems: The recall performances of adults with severe speech impairments. Light, J., & Lindsay, P. Aug. 1992, 853–864.
Symbol vocabulary and the focus of conversations: Augmenting language development for youth with mental retardation. Adamson, L.B., Romski, M.A., Deffebach, K., & Sevcik, R.A. Dec. 1992, 1333–1343.
Variables influencing perceptions of the communiative competence of an adult augmentative and alternative communication user. Bedrosian, J.L, Hoag, L.A., Calculator, S.N., & Molineux, B. Oct. 1992, 1105–1113.
Linguistic trade-offs in school-age children with and without language disorders. Masterson, J.J., & Kamhi, A.G. Oct. 1992, 1064–1075.

Genetics

Memory Aids

Sign Language

Sign Language Performance

The effects of auditory and visual interference on speech and sign. Siegel, G.M., Clay, J.L., & Naeve, S.L. Dec. 1992, 1358–1362.

Normal Phonological Development

The acquisition of unrounded vowels in English. Otomo, K., & Stoel-Gammon, C. June 1992, 604–616.

Mechanisms Of Attention

Orienting attention in audition and between audition and vision: Young and elderly subjects. Robin, D.A., & Rizzo, M. June 1992, 701–707.

Language Disorders in Autism

SPEECH

NATURE OF NORMAL SPEECH

Development of Speech and Voice

Articulation rate in 3- and 5-year-old children. Walker, J.F., Archibald, L.M.D., Cherniak, S.R., & Fish, V.G. Feb. 1992, 4–13.
Did primitive man really talk like an ape?Christensen, J.M. Aug. 1992, 805.
Locus equations as an index of coarticulation for place of articulation distinctions in children. Sussman, H.M., Hoemëke, K.A., & McCaffrey, H.A. Aug. 1992, 769–781.

Anatomy and Physiology of the Adult Speech System

Age and laryngeal airway resistance during vowel production in women. Hoit, J.D., & Hixon, T.J. April 1992, 309–313.
The correspondence of vocal tract resonance with volumes obtained from magnetic resonance images. Moore, C.A. Oct. 1992, 1009–1023.
Effects of vocal task and respiratory phase on prephonatory chest wall movements. McFarland, D.H., & Smith, A. Oct. 1992, 971–982.
Glottal gap configuration in two age groups of women. Linville, S.E. Dec. 1992, 1209–1215.
Speech breathing in senescent and younger women during oral reading. Sperry, E.E., & Klich, R. Dec. 1992, 1246–1255.
Tongue strength and endurance: Relation to highly skilled movements. Robin, D.A., Goel, A., Somodi, L.B., & Luschei, E.S. Dec. 1992, 1239–1245.

Perception of Speech

Cochlear implants in children, adolescents, and prelinguistically deafened adults: Speech perception. Dawson, P., Blamey, P., Rowland, L., Dettman, S., Clark, G., Busby P., Brown, A., Dowell, R., & Rickards, F. April 1992, 401–417.
Contributions of the fundamental, resolved harmonics, and unresolved harmonics in tone-phoneme identification. Stragray, J.R., Downs, D., & Sommers, R.K. Dec. 1992, 1406–1409.
Detection and recognition of stop consonants by normal and hearing-impaired listeners. Turner, C.W., Fabry, D.A., Barrett, S., & Horwitz, A.R. Aug. 1992, 942–949.
Discovery and expository methods in learning to lipread. Gesi, A.T., Massaro, D.W., & Cohen, M.M. Oct. 1992, 1180–1188.
Effects of aging on time-gated isolated word-recognition performance. Craig, C.H. Feb. 1992, 234–238.
The effects of input-output configuration in syllabic compression on speech perception. Maré, M.J., Dreschler, W.A., & Verschuure, H. June 1992, 675–685.
Effects of signal presentation level and word duration on gated word-recognition performance. Craig, C.H., & Kim, B.W. April 1992, 472–476.
Error monitoring in people who stutter: Evidence against auditory feedback defect theories. Postma, A., & Kolk, H.H.J. Oct. 1992, 1024–1032.
Frequency-importance functions for high- and low-context sentences. Bell, T.S., & Dirks, D.D., Trine, T.D. Aug. 1992, 950–959.
Glottal gap configuration in two age groups of women. Linville, S.E. Dec. 1992, 1209–1215.
Locus equations as an index of coarticulation for place of articulation distinctions in children. Sussman, H.M., Hoemëke, K.A., & McCaffrey, H.A. Aug. 1992, 769–781.
Modulation detection, modulation masking, and speech understanding in noise in the elderly. Takahashi, G.A., & Bacon, S.P. Dec. 1992, 1401–1421.
Open-set word identification by an adult with profound hearing impairment: Integration of touch, aided hearing, and speechreading. Lynch, M.P., Eilers, R.E., & Pero, P.J. April 1992, 443–449.
The role of temporal and spectral cues in vowel identification by listeners with impaired hearing. Summers, W.V., & Leek, M.R. Oct. 1992, 1189–1199.
Sources of variability in speechreading sentences: A generalizability analysis. Demorest, M.E., & Bernstein, L.E. Aug. 1992, 876–891.

R.E.,, Gross-Glenn, K, & Jallad, B. Feb. 1992, 192–200.
Speechreading performance under different conditions of video image, repetition, and speech rate. Ijsseldijk, F.J. April 1992, 466–471.

SPEECH AND VOICE DISORDERS

Articulation and Resonance Disorders

A 28-year follow-up of adults with a history of moderate phonological disorder: Linguistic and personality results. Felsenfeld, S., Broen, P.A., & McGue, M. Oct. 1992, 1114–1125.
Acoustic integrity of speech production in children with moderate and severe hearing impairment. Ryalls, J., & Larouche, A. Feb. 1992, 88–95.
Acoustic-phonetic contrasts and intelligibility in the dysarthria associated with mixed cerebral palsy. Ansel, B.M., & Kent, R.D. April 1992, 296–308.
Articulation testing versus conversational speech sampling. Morrison, J.A., & Shriberg, L.D. April 1992, 259–273.
Contextual and linguistic correlates of intelligibility in children with developmental phonological disorders. Weston, A.D., & Shriberg, L.D. Dec. 1992, 1316–1332.
Converging evidence for underlying phonological representation in a child who misarticulates. McGregor, K.K., & Schwartz, R.G. June 1992, 596–603.
Cross-cultural attitudes toward speech disorders. Bebout, L., & Arthur, B. Feb. 1992, 45–52.
Quantitative description of the dysarthria in women with amyotrophic lateral sclerosis. Kent, J.F., Kent, R.D., Rosenbek, J.C., Weismer, G., Martin, R., Sufit, R., & Brooks,, B.R. Aug. 1992, 723–733.
Spectral study of deviant resonance in the speech of women who are deaf. Subtelny, J.D., Whitehead, R.L., & Samar, V.J. June 1992, 574–579.

Craniofacial and Other Anomalies

Oral motor control, posturing, and myofunctional variables in 8-year-olds. Hale, S.T., Kellum, G.D., Richardson, J.F., Messer, S.C., Gross, A.M., & Sisakun, S. Dec. 1992, 1203–1208.

Physiologically Based Speech Disorders

Articulatory function after resection of the tongue and floor of the mouth: Palatometric and perceptual evaluation. Imai, S., & Michi, K. Feb. 1992, 68–78.

Speech and Voice Disorders in Personality and Psychiatric Disturbances

Stuttering and Other Fluency Disturbances

Articulation, language, rate, and fluency characteristics of stuttering and nonstuttering preschool children. Ryan, B.P. April 1992, 333–342.
Brain blood flow related to acoustic laryngeal reaction time in adult developmental stutterers. Watson, B.C., Pool, K.D., Devous, Sr. M.D., Freeman, F.J., & Finitzo, T. June 1992, 555–561.
Choosing a treatment procedure for early stuttering: Issues and future directions. Onslow, M. Oct. 1992, 983–993.
Constancy of interstress intervals in the fluent speech of people who stutter during adaptation trials. Prins, D., & Hubbard, C.P. Aug. 1992, 799–804.
Cross-cultural attitudes toward speech disorders. Bebout, L., & Arthur, B. Feb. 1992, 45–52.
Disfluencies in the conversations of young children who stutter: Some answers about questions. Weiss, A.L., & Zebrowski, P.M. Dec. 1992, 1230–1238.
The effects of noise masking and required accuracy on speech errors, disfluencies, and self-repairs. Postma, A., & Kolk, H. June 1992, 537–544.

A longitudinal study of stuttering in children: A preliminary report. Yairi, E., & Ambrose, N. Aug. 1992, 755–760.

Marching to different drummers: A reply to Smith. Perkins, W.H. Oct. 1992, 1033–1039.

Morpheme learning of children with specific language impairment under controlled instructional conditions. Connell, P.J., & Stone, C.A. Aug. 1992, 844–852.

Normal-hearing and hearing-impaired subjects' ability to just follow conversation in competing speech, reversed speech, and noise backgrounds. Hygge, S., Rönnberg, J., Larsby, B., & Arlinger, S. Feb. 1992, 208–215.

Onset of stuttering in preschool children: Selected factors. Yairi, E., & Ambrose, N. Aug. 1992, 782–788.

Operant response in infants as a function of time interval following signal onset. Primus, M.A. Dec. 1992, 1422–1425.

Oral motor control, posturing, and myofunctional variables in 8-year-olds. Hale, S.T., Kellum, G.D., Richardson, J.F., Messer, S.C., Gross, A.M., & Sisakun, S. Dec. 1992, 1203–1208.

Orienting attention in audition and between audition and vision: Young and elderly subjects. Robin, D.A., & Rizzo, M. June 1992, 701–707.

Parent verbal interactions and speech rate: A case study in stuttering. Guitar, B., Kopff Schaefer, H., Donahue-Kilburg, G., & Bond, L. Aug. 1992, 742–754.

Performance over time of congenitally deaf and postlingually deafened children using a multichannel cochlear implant. Fryauf-Bertschy, H., Tyler, R.S., Kelsay, D.M., & Gantz, B.J. Aug. 1992, 913–920.

Preparing for communication interactions: The value of anticipatory strategies for adults with hearing impairment. Tye-Murray, N. April 1992, 430–435.

Psychometric evaluation of a Swedish version of the Communication Strategies Scales of the Communication Profile for the Hearing Impaired. Hallberg, L.R-M., Eriksson-Mangold, M., & Carlsson, S.G. June 1992, 666–674.

The relationship between communication attitude, anxiety, and depression in stutterers and nonstutterers. Miller, S., & Watson, B.C. Aug. 1992, 789–798.

The relationship of vallecular residue to oral involvement, reduced hyoid elevation, and epiglottic function. Perlman, A.L., Grayhack, J.P., & Booth, B.M. Aug. 1992, 734–741.

Relationships between speech-recognition threshold, average hearing level, and speech importance noise detection threshold. Letowski, T.R., Gergenreder, P., & Tang, H. Oct. 1992, 1131–1136.

The reliability of a modified Simplex procedure in hearing and frequency response selection. Kuk, F.K., & Pape, N.M.C. April 1992, 418–429.

Reliability of labial closure force measurements in normal subjects and patients with CNS disorders. Wood, L.M., Hughes, J., Hayes, K.C., & Wolfe, D.L. April 1992, 252–258.

Reliability of two measures of speech recognition in elderly people. Cokely, C.G., & Humes, L.E. June 1992, 654–660.

Reply to Garrett and Healey. Nittrouer, S. Feb. 1992, 96–98.

Reported use of communication strategies by SHHH members: Client, talker, and situational variables. Tye-Murray, N., Purdy, S.C., & Woodworth, G.G. June 1992, 708–717.

Response to Cannito. Fitch, J.F. Dec. 1992, 1269.

The role of localization in visual reinforcement audiometry. Primus, M.A. Oct. 1992, 1137–1141.

The role of temporal and spectral cues in vowel identification by listeners with impaired hearing. Summers, W.V., & Leek, M.R. Oct. 1992, 1189–1199.

Some psychometric properties of the test of basic auditory capabilities (TBAC). Christopherson, L.A., & Humes, L.E. Aug. 1992, 929–935.

Sources of variability in speechreading sentences: A generalizability analysis. Demorest, M.E., & Bernstein, L.E. Aug. 1992, 876–891.

Speaking rates, response time latencies, and interrupting behaviors of young stutterers, nonstutterers, and their mothers. Kelly, E.M., & Conture, E.G. Dec. 1992, 1256–1267.

Specific-language-impaired children's quick incidental learning of words: The effects of a pause. Rice, M.L., Buhr, J., & Oetting, J.B. Oct. 1992, 1040–1048.
